Digital India Awareness Workshop Ignites Innovation at IIT-BHU

Students dive into Digital India pillars, e-Governance tools, and cybersecurity

New Delhi: The National e-Governance Division (NeGD), MeitY, hosted a vibrant Digital India Awareness Workshop at the Indian Institute of Technology (BHU), Varanasi, on January 31, 2026.

Held on the sidelines of IIT-BHU's flagship annual fest, e-Summit, the event aimed to fuel digital literacy among future tech leaders, spotlighting transformative Digital India initiatives that leverage technology for seamless citizen-government interactions. Expert speakers from NeGD underscored the pivotal role of young engineers in advancing India's digital infrastructure, fostering innovation, and championing cybersecurity in the digital age.

Complementing the sessions, NeGD set up an engaging stall showcasing key projects, drawing crowds of students and fest attendees to explore the immersive world of digital platforms. A thrilling Digital India Quiz capped the day, with 20 top scorers awarded by NeGD.

NeGD's Digital India Awareness Workshops form a cornerstone of its nationwide efforts, bridging academia with practical digital tools. By partnering with premier institutions like IIT-BHU, NeGD empowers youth to harness e-Governance and digital public infrastructure, aligning with the Government's vision for a tech-driven society and thriving knowledge economy.
